

Bylaws

Definition of a law and a bylaw

The FITA rule book is divided into laws and bylaws. Laws define the principles, the essentials, whereas bylaws describe the application and usage of the laws. Laws are decided every four years only, by the Congress held in the year after the Summer Olympic Games. Following the procedure of Appendix 1 of Book 1, Article 6.6, bylaws are decided by Council and valid up to the following Congress. If confirmed by Congress the bylaw becomes part of the rule book.
